

C2                    G/B                    Am7                    G                    Em7
So would You open up these walls, let them fall, so that freedom anew
D/F#                    G                    Am7                    Dsus - D
Will liberate me, let me walk with You, walk with You

CHORUS

G                    F/C
Your lovingkindness has taken my blindness
C                    Dsus - D
Opened my eyes, yes, to what I've become;
G                    F/C
Yet in my sorrows, You've rescued tomorrow
C                    Dsus - D
Starting a new life through what You have done.

BRIDGE

C2                    G/B                    Am7                    G
Some have said that love is blind, but I believe You looked inside
F/C                    C                    D7
And saw my sin, when You entered in

CHORUS

G                    F/C
Your lovingkindness has taken my blindness
C                    Dsus - D
Opened my eyes, yes, to what I've become;
G                    F/C
Yet in my sorrows, You've rescued tomorrow
C                    Dsus - D
Starting a new life through what You have done.

C2 - D2 - C2 - D2

TAG

C2    G/B                    Am7                    G                    Em7
What I know about myself I could place on the head of a pin
D/F#                    G                    C2 - D2 - C2 - D2
So simple is my knowledge of within;
